Sole-Survivor Gives Graphic Account of Schooner's Loss in Storm

Eureka, Calif.-(49)- Jorgen M. Greve, first officer of the lumber schooner Brooklyn, which sank off Humboldt bay Saturday with all hands, lived today to tell how he drifted more than 70 hours on a 'it' of wreckage in a gale-maddened sea.

He was rescued yesterday by the crew of the fishing boat Two Sisters five miles from shore slightly north of the place where the Brooklyn sank. Greve was clinging grimly to wreckage and life, semi-conscious, bleeding from numerous cuts inflicted by the constant battering of angry seas and with his clothes in tatters. County Board Takes Up Study Of Vigilante System

TURNS DOWN DINNER BID OF BANKERS

Asks County Bank Association to Present Matter at Regular Meeting

At this meeting the bankers proposed to have several experts outline to the supervisors their plan for a community guard or vigilante system designed to prevent bank robberies and to catch robbers after holdups. There were several reasons why the bankers' invitation was declined. Incidentally this is the first time in many years the board has refused an invitation of this nature.

The first opposition to the dinner was expressed by Supervisor August Laabs of the town of Grand Chute. He said he thought dinners were not the place to discuss the business of the county. He said he believed this business should be considered at the regular sessions of the board and he strongly urged that the board refuse the dinner in vitation and advise the bankers to appear before it Thursday to present

Other supervisors pointed out that many of the board members wanted to return to their homes at the end of the day instead of remaining in Appleton for a night meeting. RECOMMENDS ADOPTION

The proposed vigilante system was brought before the board when the speech Tuesday before the Good Will resolution of a special committee named to investigate the matter was read. This report had been presented at the last meeting of the for an extension of the work of the board in November, 1929, but it was laid over until this year. The committee, in the report, recommended adoption of the system. Briefly the plan calls for an ap-

Supervisor T. H. Ryan urged adoption of the system.

In a brief address when the board opened its meeting Chairman Mike Mack. Shiocton, pointed out that this is the most important session of the board. He urged the supervisors to keep the county's welfare in thought at all times and said "economy is necessary."

M u s t Embrace Practical Program, Including Better Market Methods

Rochester, N. Y. — (P) — Only practical program and recognition of the fact that conditions in American life are changing so rapidly as to compel alert leadership, will the Grange obtain equality for agriculture, National Master Louis J. Taber today told delegates to the sixtyfourth annual convention of the National Grange.

"Not by special favors to the farmer, through government aid or otherwise," said Mr. Taber, "but by a program embracing such practical subjects as better marketing methods, restriction of irrigration and reclamation projects and a more justly distributed system of taxation, will the Grange be successful in its effort to obtain equality for agriculture. "Mechanical devices art bringing new methods and new inventions to the assistance of agriculture. The scientists and the chemists daily unlock new possibilities in the manufacture and processing of food products. These same sources are finding new possibilities in food substi tution and imitation. IMPORTANT CHANGES

"More important than either me chanical or scientific changes affect ing agriculture is the remarkable development in merchandising and distribution. Mass production, mass purchasing and mass distribution are dislocating farm methods and threatening many rural communities with disaster, if not almost destruction," said Mr. Taber. HOLLYWOOD QUITE PLEASED OVER NEW WAR IN FILMLAND

Love, It Seems, Is What Goes into Making of United Artist Films

BY JESSIE HENDERSON. Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press Hollywood - Somewhat elated by the present war between United Artists and Fox west coast theatres, be cause there hasn't been a good film fight for quite a while, Hollywood as a result of the warfare is today in possession of two interesting facts. The first is that Charlie Chaplin's middle name seems to be Spenser and the second is that United Art--ists make pictures for love.

Yes, sir. Love is what goes into the making of every United Artist production, and heck with money. This in effect is what United Artists say in their rhetorical ultimatum to Fox west coast theatres, which United Artists denounce as a dangerous monopoly that won't pay the somewhat higher prices demanded by United Artists for their loving toil. United have been releasing their work through Fox west coast

On the other hand, Fox west coast theatres, protesting a willingness to pay as much for United productions as for any others, but no more, display in their reply an unashamed interest in the money side of movies. Officials at the Fox studios were saying today that although "The Taming of the Shrew" was artistic as anything and simply full of loving toil, it is reputed to have made less money than any picture in which Douglas Fairbanks or Mary Pickford appeared separately.

OLD WAR GOES ON Fox west coast wants United to accept a certain percentage of the gross receipts, as other producers do, but United contend they are lovingly artistic enough to have a flat rate. Maybe each is right. In the meantime, there is celluloid blood all FEW ACTORS POSSESS over the place, while the old, old struggle between love and money goes merrily forward-a theme that has been the subject of more than one talkie right here in Hollywood, with love invariably the winner. United may build its own string

To which Harley Clarke, president of Fox, retorts:

And so on, on, far into the night During the interim, Mary is dodging rubber books thrown at her head in the filming of "Kiki;" Doug is mak ing a modern comedy with Bebe Daniels as leading lady; Charlie Chaplin is ready to release his latest atlent movie; and the Fox studios cameras continue to grind.

WHITEWASH WON'T DO

Complaints that the city poor commissioner has failed to cooperate properly with the health department and that he has been discourteous and arrogant in his contact with the public deserve more careful investigation than was given at the meeting of the council's peor committee Monday afternoon. The complaints are of such a serious nature that a mere glossing over with instructions to be good hereafter, is entirely inadequate. If these charges were worth recognizing at all they are worth investigating in a thorough manner, with the committee and not the poor commissioner assuming the leadership.

The complaint that the poor commissioner has so far failed in cooperating with the health department that unnecessary suffering was caused city charges is of such serious nature that the facts must be definitely established and proper punishment administered if there is clear-cut evidence of guilt. If on the other hand, Mr. Lyons has not failed in his duty he is entitled to complete exoneration, not a mere whitewash in order to be rid of a disagreeable situation.

The public and Mr. Lyons also are entitled to an investigation to determine whether the poor commissioner has been discourteous, tactless and arrogant in his contacts with persons applying to him for aid. If it is established that he has been guilty of these actions it is high time that he be given. to understand that he is the servant of the public and not its master and thatevery citizen, no matter how lowly his station in life or how meagre his means, is entitled to decent and courteous treatment. If it is established that Mr. Lyons has not been guilty of the things said about him he is entitled to a complete exoneration.

The tempest that has been started in the city hall by the accusations against Mr. Lyons is something more than a "school child" difficulty that can be settled by shaking hands. It is more fundamental than a mere difference of an opinion, it goes back to a conception of service on the part of a public official. The council's committee should ascertain without delay just what is Mr. Lyons' conception of public service and take such action as their investigation indicates is necessary.

UTILITIES AT THE BAR

Nor did the recent election returns bring any cheer to public utilities. They were under attack in a number of different states and whether or not that attack had much to do with the result they cannot look over the battle field and find any spot where they suffered aught but repulses except the action of the people of Los Angeles in voting down a proposed bond issue in part to provide funds for public ownership programs.

Their worst reverses came in Pennsylvania and New York where the public utility programs of Mr. Pinchot in Pennsylvania and Mr. Roosevelt in New York featured the elections. While Mr. Pinchot was elected by a heavily reduced majority, getting 70,000 where he should have received 700,000, eastern writers claim his war on public utilities saved him as he lost heavily by reason of his prohibition attitude. Mr. Pinchot declared that the public service commission of Pennsylvania had not made any genuine pretense of protecting the public interest, permitted the utilities to alter their rates, mostly upward, upon their mere say-so and failed to reduce them down from their wartime schedules after the wartime reasons had vanished. But Mr. Pinchot's cure, which is a scheme to substitute an elective for an appointive rate commission, is of less than doubtful value. The rates of public utilities depend on a thousand different factors hardly any two of which are the same in any two localities. Even the man trained to the dissection of business statements has difficulty in comprehending them to say nothing of the men in the street. We expected something more constructive from Mr. Pinchot. Nothing but confusion and turmoil, court action and the constant presence of the utilities in the elections where they do not belong, can come from such a proposal.

Governor Roosevelt of New York in his campaign for reelection succeeded in making the waterpower issue paramount. With the Niagara, the St. Lawrence and many other lesser streams capable of producing hundreds of thousands of horsepower the waterpower issue would seem to be a natural one to the Empire state. Mr. Roosevelt insists upon the state owning this waterpower but he is not prepared as yet to urge state operation suggesting instead that the developed waterpower be purveyed by private agencies under lease from the state, claiming that with the proper provisions in executed leases, the state can always hold a steady and controlling hand upon the prices to be exacted of the public. His plan would naturally tend to take a consideration of public utility rates out of the jurisdiction of commissions and courts and make them contractual between the state and the purveying agencies. Such a situation certainly gives the commonwealth a strong command in making the leases.

Faced with a situation of this character the utilities may find it a good time to examine their attitude towards the public carefully and take sane thought about the future. It is impossible to make one statement to cover all utilities because some have been careful with regard to public rights and some have not. The misfortune is that the innocent are likely to suffer with the guilty.

Here in Wisconsin as elsewhere the situation has become confused by the baffling structure of holding and operating companies which is difficult for the public to understand and certainly not easy for the xailroad commission. Here we have the governing body built to carry the load that existed twenty years ago with the legislature-declining to advance it sufficient funds to greatly increase its capacity for work and declining also to provide special counsel for the various municipalities. All-of which results in making the contest between the utility and the municipality a quite unequal one although the state has full power to fix the rates at "reasonable figures."

The people, too, see evidence of the consolidations all about them, know that they represent a saving in operation and are restless because they do not believe that a fair part of that saving has been passed on to them. They do not believe wild statements to the effect that they are paying ten or even two times more than what is reasonable but vigorously demand as a matter of right some benefit. People are by far more insistent upon correct rates from public utilities than they are about proper charges from their grocer, sense quickly any appearance of unfairness and generally are willing to meet the utilities half way in a spirit of conciliation. Under such circumstances there is but one course for the utilities to follow, a perfectly frank and open policy with the public.

AIM TO SATISFY

The color coordination committee of the National Retail Dry Goods association has completed its difficult task of selecting the correct colors to be worn at southern resorts this winter and throughout the country next spring and fall. For all who have been waiting for the new color schedule before buying much-needed apparel, the verdict should be spread around quick-

First, white sets the pace. Close behind it in correctness come a "clear navy blue, a yellowish red, a vibrant green, an animated yellow, a neutral brown, sea sand, sky gray and black." For millinery one has a choice of six blues, several greens, some browns, tans, grays and reds.

On the face of it the committee seems to have done well. Anyone dissatisfied with this color schedule is just a carping critic and would not be satisfied with the color scheme of a rainbow.

Today's Anniversary

CAPTURE OF MONTREAL On. Nov. 12, 1775, the Americans dealt the British a surprising blow shortly before the end of the Revolutionary War when Richard Montgomery, with 2,000 men, descended from Lake Champlain to capture Montreal.

Congress sent an expedition into Canada after t had heard that King George had hired 20,000 German troops to fight against the colonists. The primary reason for the expedition was to prevent Sir Guy Carleton, governor of Canada, from invading New York.

Another line of American invasion was intrusted to Benedict Arnold, who, with 1,200 men, made a wonderful march through dense wilderness of Maine to reach Quebec. Here he joined forces with Montgomery and they both made a desperate assault upon Quebec. They forced their way into the town but Montgomery was killed and Arnold disabled, and the assault was finally repulsed. One historian wrote of this expedition:

"No expedition during the American Revolution had less elements of permanent value than those which were undertaken against Canada during the year 1775. Great results were anticipated, but none were realized. The obstacles were too substantial, and failure was inevitable.

Many of the inks used in modern printing processes are necessarily and unavoidably poisonous or irritating to the skin. Printers today suffer more than ever before from skin troubles, chiefly, of course, on the hands and arms. SCHWARTZBAUER IS NEW VICE CHAIRMAN OF COUNTY BOARD

Town of Menasha Supervisor Succeeds George B. Young

Neenah - Henry Schwartzbauer, supervisor from town of Menasha, was elected vice chairman of the Winnebago-co board during the opening session Tuesday morning at Oshkosh. Mr. Schwartzbauer was elected on the second formal ballot to succeed George B. Young, who became chairman of the board following the resignation of Silas L. Spengler, who now is municipal

On the informal ballot Schwartzbauer and M. F. White of Winneconne were leading nominees. Mr. White withdrew from the race and the first formal ballot established Schwartzbauer as the principal candidate, with J. B. Schneller, Neenah, as runner-up. Mr. Schneller asked that his name be not considered, and on the second formal ballot Mr. Schwartzbauer was elected, receiving 30 votes. The remaining votes were scattered

E. G. Sonnenberg, Third ward, Menasha, took his seat at the opening session, replacing S. L. Spengler. Henry Schultz, Neenah, was designated as the chairman of the county poor and county home committee to succeed Supervisor Young. At the suggestion of J. B. Schneller, of the rules committee, a change in the board rules was approved. In case of a tie vote, any member of the board may move reconsideration of a motion or resolution.

Bills for damage done by dogs have reached a total this year far in excess of the money appropriated for that purpose. Damage totaling $4,-000 were reported for which there is but $2,000 available.

Several resolutions were introduced at the opening session, among them one asking that the salary of the county judge be increased to $6,-`000 a year, beginning with the next regular term, Jan. 1, 1932. Another asked an increase of $300 in the highway commissioner's assistant's salary.

An appropriation of $4,000 is asked in one resolution to create the office of a county weed commissioner at a salary of $2,400.

Board meetings are to begin at 9:30 instead of 10 o'clock every day, which will give time for all work in the morning. The afternoons will be open for committee work. It is estimated the board will be in session for at least 10 days after it gets down to the budget work.

British Monarch Convenes Round Table Conference on India Question

New York -(P)- King George's address convening the Indian round table conference heard in New York over an international radio broadcast of the Columbia Broadcasting company follows:

"It affords me much satisfaction to welcome the governors of my empire, the representatives of the princes, chiefs and people of India, to his conference with my ministers and with the members of the other parties composing the parliament in whose precincts we are assembled.

"More than once the sovereign has summoned the historic assemblies on the soil of India, but never before have the British and Indian statesmen and rulers of Indian states met as you now meet in one place and around one table to discuss the future system of government for India and seek agreement for the guidance of our parliament as to the foundations upon which it must stand. "Nearly ten years ago in a mes-zage to my Indian legislature, I dwelt upon the significance of its establishment in the constitutional progress of India. Ten years is but a brief span in the life of any nation, but throughout all the nations forming the British commonwealth, a quickening and growth in ideas and aspirations of nationhood which defy the customary measurement of time. It should therefore be no matter of surprise to the men of this generation that as we then contemplated it should have become necessary to review the results of what was begun ten years ago and to especially. SPEAKS AT NOON It was high noon as the king-emperor entered and took his place before the historic assembly, which stood in silent reverence to do him homage. The ruler spoke in measured tones, his striking voice sounding resonant and clear into his own gold and silver microphone which carried his words over a wide-spread radio network to the far corners of the empire and across the Atlantic to the minutes. "More than once," he said, "the sovereign has summoned historic assemblies on the soil of India but that this was the first occasion on and sole purpose of India's advancenever before have British and Indian statesmen and the rulers of the Indian states met as you now meet in one place and around one table to Britain, on English soil. He first asked the conference to authorize him to convey to the king an expression of loyal gratitude for his presence and the inspiration his words had given them, and to convey to Queen Mary their grateful appreciation of her kindly solicitude for the Indian visitors.

He continued: "I am very conscious of the honor ou have done me in asking me to preside over this conference and I am very conscious of the responsibility you have put upon me. But the responsibility lies heavily upon us all. We are now at the very birth of a new history. "Declarations made by British sov ereigns and statesmen from time to ime that Britain's work in India was to prepare her for self-government ave been plain. If some say that they have been applied with woeful tardiness, I reply that no permanent evolution has seemed to anyone going through it anything but tardy. There are stubborn diversities of view that still have to be brought together and conflicting interests which have proved irreconcilable hitherto. "Could any issues be more momen-

"What problems of growth and development in liberty and institutions have our peoples not faced? And united we remain, in all our diversities, by our skill in harmonizing differences by reasonable mutual ac commodation.

"This gathering itself is surely a heartening promise. His majesty's presence at the opening of our deiberations enabled us to understand both the strength and flexibility of the bond which binds our whole commonwealth of nations together in loyalty and devotion to the crown. The attendance of the representatives of the dominion governments is an attest of the interest and good will with which the sister states in the commonwealth will follow our labors.

"The association of the princes for right he walked slowly from the the first time in a joint conclave with the representatives of the people of British India is symbolical of the gradual molding together of India into one whole. FORDHAM CLASHES WITH CALIFORNIA ELEVEN SATURDAY

Meets St. Mary Team in First East-west Game of 1930 Grid Season

EW YORK —(A)—Saturday's slate finds nine eastern football teams involved in battles with elevens from other sections, Fordham, Navy, Penn, Villanova, Army and Marshall will remain a home while Pitt, Boston college and Penn State travel westward to defend eastern prestige.

Fordham's undefeated and untied eleven, one of the strongest in the sector, battles the rugged St. Mary's team from California. Navy, battered all season, has little hope of stopping Southern Methodist but Penn hopes for the best against Georgia Teach. Villanova and Army will not be up against strenuous opposition, the former meeting Oglethorpe and the Cadets tangling with Kentucky Wesleyan, Marshall, which plays an eastern schedule, meets Louisville at Huntington, W. Va.

Pitt, always strong in November, takes on Ohio State at Columbus against Iowa at Iowa City. Boston College should top Loyola at Chicago without particular trouble although the Eagles have shown little offensive strength this season.

The purely domestic part of the week-end schedule is packed with games backed by tradition. The fifty-fourth meeting between Yale and Princeton will find the blue an overwhelming favorite. Harvard draws a strong defensive foe in Holy Cross and Cornell will be the under-dog against Dartmouth's unbeaten eleven. Syracuse does not seem to pack the punch to beat back the highpowered offense of Colgate. New York University hopes for its first victory in three starts against Georgetown. Columbia, with Ralph Hewitt back in the fold, looks forward to the Brown game with more confidence than might be expected after the Colgate carnage.

It sounds odd to hear that fielding records can be made better and batting records be increased by scoring that is not efficient. Yet it is quite true. If fielders are not credited with basehits and this pracrecords have become so high that the pitchers have been made to look ridiculous. It is the pitchers who are bringing in the complaints.

Specific cases have been furnished to prove that the scoring has been bad. BADGERS SECOND BEST DEFENSIVE TEAM IN BIG TEN

Lost First Place Honors Saturday When Scored on by S. D. State

M ADISON —(P)— Wisconsin's football team was caught napping again last Saturday and today it was back in second place in the race for Western conference defensive honors, although ent world's and American record is it maintains its pace as scoring lead-

The Slumbering Giants built up 52 to 0 lead on South Dakota State's rugged little eleven, and then Nelson, a Jackrabbit halfback, slipped through to go 67 yards for a touch man Brix heaved the shot 52 feet down. The result is that North western regained its defensive leadership with 15 points by opponents to 20 for Wisconsin.

By a peculiar twist, laid to carelessness, 13 of the points counted against the Badgers have been by minor elevens. Lawrence college, Appleton, scored on a pass and succumbed 53 to 6, and the Jackrabbits went through the line to get seven points to 58 for Wisconsın. Purdue is the only major team to score on the Badgers, taking a 7 to 6 decision on a long forward pass.

The Wisconsin scoring leadership was further built at the expense of South Dakota State and the Badgers now have 206 points, collected in seven games. Northwestern, in second place, has 162 points.

The clash between the Wildcats and the Badgers at Evanston Saturday is expected to have much to do with the Big Ten scoring and defensive leaderships. GAINED 1,925 YARDS

Wisconsin's running attack continues to pile up yards until it now has compiled a grand total of 1,925 ards for the season. The passing attack has gained 491 yards by way of 30 completed passes in 85 attempts. Opponents have intercepted a Wisconsin toss on eight occasions. Demonstrative of this strong line, Wisconsin has allowed only 549 yards in gains through it, and holds the edge in first downs 128 to 44. Russell Rebholz, the elusive halfback, was in the game long enough Saturday, to become the Big Ten leading individual scorer with 42 points by way of a touchdown and a point after, and also to reestablish himself as the team's best groundgainer when he lugged the game and will wear a special pro- ball twice and gained 45 yards to give him a season average of sev-

Hoff is suing for 20 per cent & Tunney's earnings, more than $400 000, alleging he had an oral contract with Tunney. In support of his claims, he submitted a document which Tunney admits he signed, using the name "Eugene J. Tunney," although his correct name is "James J."

Tunney signed the paper Sept. 23. 1926, just after his arrival in Philadelphia to fight Demosey. The former heavyweight champion says it merely was an acknowledgement of a $20,000 claim against Billy Gib competent.

Ring authorities predicted that the Hoff case would uncover considerable about the big-time sports world, since the means by which Hoff was to earn 20 per cent of Tunney's earnings has not been made clear.

TWO GAMES HAVE DIRECT BEARING ON BIG TEN TITLE

Northwestern Must Defeat Wisconsin and Wolverines Must Down Gophers

BY WILLIAM WEEKES Associated Press Sports Writer
HICAGO —(P)— The man that gave Northwestern its last Big Ten football laurels. Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite, will take a Wisconsin team to Evanston Saturday, with no other purpose than to wreck the Wildcats' chances of an other title, or share therein. Back in 1926 Thistlethwaite coached his last Northwestern eleven to a tie with Michigan for the championship. He moved to Wisconsin where his best year was 1928 when Notre Dame, among others was defeated. Last fall the Badgers were the outstanding disappointment of the Big Ten season. The Cardinal got off to a rearing start this season, trampling Chicago and Pennsylvania. Purdue, however, squeezed out one of those bonus point victories and the next week Wisconsin was hald to a scoreless tie by Ohio State. Wisconsin has shown signs of tremendous power but for some reason, has failed to operate at its best since the Pennsylvania contest.

The Badgers figure to get going and are hopeful of making their one Big Ten splurge against the title headed Northwestern eleven.

Northwestern, coaches and players, are taking the game more seriously than the Notre Dame affair a week from Saturday. They want those little gold footballs—and all that stands in the way is Wisconsin --a team that can be extremely good or just as ordinary. The Wildcats put in a strengous session yesterday, and the eagerness with which they whirled through their chores surprised even Coach Dick Hanley. WOLVES, GOPHERS NEED WIN

Things are just as serious at Michigan and Minnesota. Gophers need a victory over Michigan Saturday to make their season, while the Wolverines must win to hold their chance for the title. Both elevens are expected to be at top estrength for the encounter.

Illinois and Chicago are looking forward to Saturday, with each expecting to gain its first major victory of the season. Indiana already is bearing down on preparation for the "old oaken bucket" game with Purdue a week from Saturday, while the Boilermakers are taking it easy this week with only Butler to worry about.

Iowa and Ohio State, which meet Penn State and Pittsburg, respectively, in intersectional games, have injury problems and last minute shifts are being effected to bolster up for the easterners.

Notre Dame will meet Drake fortified with little practice. The first Irish drill of the week was set for today and a dummy scrimmage tomorrow is the most strenuous item on the schedule. Rockne called off practice for two days so his men could study for examinations and remain eligible for the

Northwestern's Big Ten title hopes rest on the outcome of the Badger game Saturday, and the Big Ten title is Northwestern's first consideration. OIL INDUSTRY IN NEED OF LEADER TO LOWER SURPLUS

Kaukauna-Students of the high Producers Can't Seem to Crawl Out of Economic Wilderness

> BY OWEN L SCOTT Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press Chicago -(CPA)-The oil industry, represented here at the eleventh annual meeting of the American Petroleum Institute, would welcome a modern John D. Rockefeller to lead it out of the economic wilderness.

> Not since the senior John D. invented the modern trust to meet the growing problems of a booming and hectic new business in petroleum products, has oil presented so many problems. They are not dodged by the industry's leaders, but thus far no one has appeared with the genius of leadership displayed by the founder of the Standard Oils.

Necessity may turn out to be the leader at the president gathering. and unit operation of oil pools the method for working out the answer to more pressing production problems. Already Henry L. Doherty. veteran oil man, long an exponent of conservation, has advised the representatives of leading companies that unless a more comprehensive solution to over-production problems than any yet applied, is devised, he will petition the U.S. attorney general and congress for a through-going investigation of the entire indus-

At the same time, E. B. Reeser president of the institute, in his address Tuesday advised the oil men that in his opinion unit operation of oil pools supplied the permant solution of the industry's problems. The present method of conservation, with competitive drilling and shut-in-production, increases costs and involves

BOARD URGES POOLS The federal oil conservation board

Too much present production of oil and the prospect of a future serious stortage, supplies the base for the present situation. Over 600,000,000 barrels of oil are in storage above ground, or nearly enough to supply the country's needs for an entire year. Gasoline stocks are huge and prices of gasoline are pictured by leading producers as down near or be low the cost of production. The general plaint is that, except for the largest and lowest cost producers, it is impossible now for oil companies to make profits.

There is in the oil industry a $12, 000,000,000 investment. It employes 2,000,000 workers. The annual output includes approximately 1,000,000,000 barrels of crude oil, from which come 400,000,000 barrels of gasoline and 400.000.000 barrels of fuel oils and gas. The annual export trade totals $500,000,000.

The tax on gasoline, now applied by every state, and varying from two to six cents a gallon, this year is bringing in a revenue of about $550,000,000 and pays for half of the cost of construction and maintenance of highways.

Thousands of new wells are drilled each year, at an annual cost estimated at $500,060,000. If all of the wells were permitted to flow unrestricted the country would be flooded in oil. The industry at the moment is struggling with the problem of finding the most efficient method of regulating this production. "We must find an answer that will dispose permanently of the age-long methods we have employed in the competitive development of single pools," said President Reeser. "The

GREAT LAKES BOATS LAY UP FOR WINTER

Soult Ste. Marie., - (A) - With five weeks still to go before the "official" close of navigation, Great Lakes steamers already are laying up because of the lack of cargoes. While the early closing has added to unemployment, it has none the less helped business in the lower

The simplest, however, of all conceivable flying machines would be a cylinder blowing out gas in the rear, and driving itself along on the principle of the rocket. Carbonic acid may be liquefied, and at a temperature of 150', it exerts a pressure of 1,496 lbs. to the square inch.

Later he is people's lives. And, resentfully, s reported missing and probably dead, and Dagger is heartbroken. Dick Welling, an Englishman, who has come to the ranch to forget some past troubles, leaves to buy horses for the British army. America enters the war, and Dagger goes to visit an aunt in San Antonio, where she meets Captain John Vancering, flying ace. He gives her a opportunity to learn to fly, and falls in love with her, but she belittles his protestations of affection.

DAGGER TAKES TO THE AIR EANWHILE Dagger's flying when it didn't, Stedman gave her ger was becoming as well known shopwork, taking a motor to pieces,

She was an apt pupil. After her second flight she wanted to take the controls alone, but Stedman curbed her enthusiasm for a week.

"You can do it, I believe, but there's no sense in being hasty. Wait a few days."

She was appreciative of his judgment, and waited, however impatiently, keen to merit his confidence. And in consequence her first flight. with her instructor sitting idly, only prepared to take the controls if she made a radical mistake, was an entire success.

Several days later she was allowed to make a solo flight, equally successful. Then a couple of weeks more, and she had a credit of four hours in the air, unguided, and was a fullfledged pilot. Even Aunt Espy attended that qualifying flight, and was impressed, despite her dubious certainty that such doings were undermining the status of womanhood.

There was a madness in the air. those days. The world was become a forcing-house for youth. Overnight. almost, boys and girls sprang from adolescence of maturity, eager, avid of experience, restless under the impending threat of death. Vancering had lived in this atmosphere for three years; it had impregnated his being. "Be happy today for tomorrow you'll probably be dead" was his motto, as it was his comrades', and he preached it quite honestly Dagger, like most of her generation, recevied it unquestioningly. She saw it being verified all around her. Boys she had danced with the night before crashed in the morning flights; brothers of girls she knew vanished blankly in the nightmare of the trenches.

Vancering seldom spoke on this theme-perhaps because he was subconsciously aware that Dagger required to arguments to accept it. But if he plumed himself on being directly responsible for her acquiescence

RUSSIA BIDS FOR AMERICAN TRADE IN WORLD MARKET

Boasts It Will Undersel Competitors in Rubber Goods

BY J. C. ROYLE Copyright, 1930, by Cons Press Washington—(CPA—Soviet Rus sia is centering the drive for world markets on Europe at present, but is leaning over Europe's shoulder to strike a back-handed blow at the commerce of the United States.

The Soviet government, according to-reports from American commercial officals abroad, is dumping invantities of rubber goods into Germany and north central European countries. The Russians are boast ing they will undersell all competitors in tires and rubber footwear and are indifferent as to whether they sell below cost or not. It is reported they are selling such ar ticles at about one-third the price asked for American goods.

In this one line alone the effect be damaging. Rubber goods exports last year from the United were valued at between $55,000,000 and $60,000,000. It is impossible for prices quoted by Russia. The latter has any amount of "pressed" labor at her command. She has been favored by the extremely low price of crude rubber and has been in a position to buy "bootleg" rubber which was sneaked out of the plantations in the straits settlements by Japanese and Chinese.

TRUST HANDLES FOOTWEAR Footwear production in Russia is in the hands of the Resino trust which is said to have a capacity of 50,000,000 pairs of rubber overshoes a year. These are being offered in Berlin at 40 to 50 cents a pair while about $1.25 is asked for American overshoes. The dumping of tires by the Resino trust has cut into the sales of French and English tires as well as American casings.

Organized labor is fully aware of his Russian menace to industry nd future employment and is opposg any recognition or commercial tivity with Russia.

Machinery exists which might-be efficacious in preventing the dumping of materials such as rubber goods, manganese, coal, oil, grain and wood pulp in this country, but this nation has no means of preventing the soviets from dumping goods in foreign markets which now are being supplied with American goods.

On the other-hand, Russian purchases in domestic markets make an Impressive total. The Amtorg Trading Corporation, which represents the Soviet government in the United States, ordered $128,793,000 worth of American goods in the fiscal year ended Sept. 30, 1930. This compared with $72,229,000 the previous year. There has been a marked drop since the grain operations of the Russian government were revealed this au-

It is notable that purchases of raw materials by Russia dropped 43 per semi-manufactured goods fell off 32 per cent, while industrial and power plant machinery purchases rose 77 per cent, machine building equipment 207 per cent, metallurgical equipment 74 per cent. mining machinery 25 per cent, electro-technical products 644 per cent and agricultural machinery 125 per cent. The explaination for this is apparent. Russia undoubtedly hopes to buy machinery and equipment of the most improved sort from the United States, use her own raw materials and cheap labor and make goods which will compete not only in foreign markets but in American mar kets with domestic goods. Whether such a program can be carried out is problematical. Russian situation naturally lends itself to mass production, but American engineers say that this is a field in which no foreign nation has been able to compete successfully with the United States. They have bought American machines and received instruction in running them, but the engineers say something essential has always been held back and that this fact will bring the Soviet scheme to final failure.

CONFERENCE TO STRESS ATTRACTIONS OF FARM

Madison - (A) - A comparison of city and farm life, with an emphasis upon thte desirability of living in the country, will be made at the American Country Life conference here Oct. 7-10.

The general theme-standard of living-will be approached from three angles, says J. H. Kolb, rural sociologist of the University of Wisconsin. They are income, how it is spent and cultural advantages. Miss Betty Eckhardt, West Virginia state recreation worker, will lead a forum dealing with the rural cultural arts field. Authorities in rural dramatics, music and other forms of rural recreation will aid Miss Eckhardt.

WOULD RAISE LUSITANIA Reports of the raising of treasure ships off European coasts has prompted a Scotchman to propose the salvaging of the Lusitania with its valuable thirty-ton safe. Engineers declare that it is almost a certainty that the weight of the sea at cent from the previous year and a depth of about 300 feet crushed the vessel flat years ago. The Scotchbased on the plan of an Americanformulated just before the World war. It was his intention to use a submarine, which was to fire torpedoes through the sunken vessel, each torpedo carrying a steel cable. The cables were to be taken from the other side up to the surface, and then the wreck was to be hauled from the depths.

And Rio de Janeiro Is One of Most Beautiful Cities in World

Rio de Janeiro -(A)- South America, vast continent of contrasts, where governments of Bolivia, Peru, Argentina and now Brazil have toppled since June, is perhaps the last and greatest of the world's wonder-

Like the downfall of the governments of her smallest neighbors, the final coup that overthrew Brazil's federal administration, was brought about by the action of a handful of army and navy officers in the capital itself.

Fighting had been in progress for three weeks in the north and south but the final blow was struck swiftly in Rio de Janeiro far from the

PLAN CONFERENCES ON

Milwankee (A)-The increasing number of "professional criminals in Wisconsin, dangerous overcrowding of the state prison with its hundreds of idle prisoners," will be discussed with a view to giving "interested persons an opportunity to obtain information," at a series of regional conferences of the state Committee on Crime and Criminal Justice, during the next two months, former Gov. Francis T. McGovern, chairman of the committee, announced today.

Conferences now scheduled are at: Eau Claire Nov. 12; Superior Nov. 13; Hudson, Nov. 14; Oshkosh Nov. 19; Rhinelander Nov. 21, and Racine

Only a few of the committee members will attend each conference but invitations have been sent to large numbers of interested persons in the communities in which the conferences are to be held and in neighboring communities. Invitations have been sent to all the mayors and county boards.

FIGHT ASTHMA

London-A group of scientists who have been working on a cure of asthma find that many cases are caused from dust which rises from feather pillows and mattresses to irritate the nostrils of sufferers. If this is not the case, it is said that abnormal quantities of a peculiar poison in the bodies of some humans cause asthma. The scientists are studying the nature of the poison in trying to neutralize it.

Babe Ruth Adopts Two Little Girls

At the left is Julie Hodgson, daughter of the present Mrs. Ruth who was a widow when he married her in April, 1929.
